You Need to Update Your GMS Profile

Due to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) the club can no longer hold any data about Parents/Children on paper. The Rugby Football Union (RFU) now require parents to have a Game Management System (GMS) profile and keep that profile up to date, plus you need to affiliate yourself and your child to the club if your child wishes to play in matches. This has to be done on an annual basis as the RFU now de-register every child at the beginning of August each year.

If you already have a GMS account and you know your username and password, you simply have to do the following.

1. Logon on to your account via englandrugby.com, you will find GMS in the black navigation bar near the top of the page.
2. Enter your username and password
3. On your home page a box should appear that contain green lettering giving you several options.
4. Firstly, Affiliate yourself and update your profile with any change of address, contact details etc, and save the changes by clicking on the save tab at the top left-hand side of the screen.
5. Then Affiliate your child and once again update their details if required, i.e., medical details photo consent etc. once completed again save the changes.

At this stage you have successfully updated your profile and you can sign out of your account.

If you have any problems, please approach any committee member and they will do their best to help.
